2. Read the passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

The cinema is probably the most popular form of entertainment in the world. It can serve as a great power for civilization, but in actual fact, it does only a fraction of good it might do. Most film making companies are privately owned profit making concerns. Therefore the majority of film produced by them are too light. They waste our time and money and turn us wild. But there are exceptions. Some films, of course, educate us in the sciences and in the arts. Documentary films have given excellent teaching on various subjects in the more realistic way than our text books. If cinema can be saved from commercial spirits, it may take its place in the great arts of the world.

Questions :

5

- (a) Why are the majority of films produced by the film companies so light ?
- (b) How do such films harm us ?
- (c) How have documentary films served us ?
